

Done Gone

Matt Brown

11

5

9

13

Bb

F

F

Bb

Gm

D

Gm

Gm

D

Gm

“Done Gone” was written by Matt Brown, whose music was never recorded but who was a huge influence on all the early Texas fiddlers. J.B. Cranfil, who knew both Robertson and Brown, related that Brown wrote “Done Gone” on the side of a lonely highway after the only car he saw during an entire afternoon of hitch-hiking not only passed him by but almost ran over him. Who knew that such a lousy afternoon would transform into art and history in just a few years.

Quote from:

<http://www.texasescapes.com/ClayCoppedge/Eck-Robertson.htm>